Dear Sir:

I, Charles D. Surh citizen of the United States of America and resident of California declare that the following facts are within my knowledge and are true.

1. I am a Professor of Immunology at the Scripps Research Institute. I am a leading authority on the immune system and the role of T lymphocytes. I am especially noted for my work on the selection of young T cells in the thymus and the factors controlling mature T cell survival in the extrathymic environment.
